

A Gift Of “Love”

We firmly believe that every child is unique, valuable and should be respected.

We firmly believe that every child should learn to love and be loved, no matter when and where.

There is always a mission in education, which is to “hope that children grow up healthily with a whole heart”.

As long as children know how to appreciate life, they can love life, cherish life, and live life. Thus, they can learn to be caring and grateful for others, the environment, and things.

How can we let children understand this? By reading aloud. Only reading books aloud can help children “live life”.

Cultivating children’s habit of reading books from an early age can help children find the meaning in their lives. Books can present values, life education, moral education, daily knowledge etc. which children can devote themselves to endless fantasies and learning from the stories. But remember! The story is not for children to read aloud by themselves. We must accompany the children to read aloud. Reading together with parents can help children engage in the story situation. If parents spend 10 minutes a day reading books with their children, it will not only improve parent-children relationship, but also can promote children's ability to learn.

This year, the school invited: Dr. Su Liu Zixia, a guest lecturer from the Education University of Hong Kong, to the school to conduct training for teachers, parents and kindergarten teachers of the Hong Kong Northwest Rotary Club of the Hong Kong Baptist Association, so that they can understand the importance of reading books. We firmly believe that in the process of reading a book, children can be guided through the cover, content and images hence can guess and understand the meaning of the text through guided reading. During the training, we understand that reading aloud is the foundation of reading. Once children fall in love with reading, they will be able to learn independently in aspects like speaking, reading and writing.

On top of that, it turns out that reading aloud has the following “seven benefits”:

Develop the right brain ~ Reading aloud is conducive to the self-cultivation of children's image thinking ability.

Cultivate children's cheerful personality ~ Reading aloud can let children appreciate their own or other people's voices. Children will gradually build up self-confidence and become cheerful and joyful.

Improve self-worth ~ Repeated reading can increase courage. Children have the courage to read aloud their feelings and understanding.

Activating the Cranial Nerve ~ Persist in reading aloud makes the brain more sensitive. It also improves learning abilities such as reaction, thinking, concentration and auditory memory.

Good for memorizing materials ~ Reading aloud frequently can help children to concentrate and recall deep memories.

Intuitive thinking ability ~ Repetitive reading can directly help children's thinking ability. as it leads to a good sense of language, the ability to internalize the content of the article, accumulate many vocabularies and enrich their language expression skills.

Improve writing ability ~ Reading aloud can let children understand the structure of an article including the beginning, succession, transformation, and closing. Knowing all these rules and regulations will lead to improvement on writing level.

Since reading aloud has so many benefits.

Today, I give you this gift of "love", and may you share this gift with your children.
